GAMIFIED LEARNING

Unleash the power of gamification for cybersecurity awareness programs that engage your team with Living Security

To improve your employees' engagement and satisfaction with security awareness and training programs, gamified learning is the answer to accomplish this AND positively impact human behaviors. Living Security offers a unique gamified learning solution that revolutionizes security awareness programs. By incorporating puzzles, leaderboards, and team experiences into your training program, you motivate learners through competition, engage them with interesting storylines, and drive positive changes in their behaviors with higher retention rates of important security topics.

Efficiently Scale & Tailor Campaigns

Easily create targeted campaigns to address specific risks or goals, like compliance, that automatically add new employees as needed. Create campaigns for specific risks, role-based, annual training and compliance, onboarding, or other unique campaign outcomes.

Change Behaviors for Good!

Gamification has been proven to increase retention of new ideas by 16x! Empower employees to better defend themselves and the organization by fostering improved human behaviors through better retention with a gamified approach to awareness training.

Improved Sentiment of Security Team

Improve the perception of the security team with engaging, fun security awareness experiences that resonate with employees and decrease the overall time spent on training.

> "Living Security is on the cutting edge of where we need to get to in terms of how we are training our associates—gamification and small tidbits of information at a pace that works for them."
