

INSIDER RISK MANAGEMENT

Identify Real Insider Risks Earlier to Better Protect Your Valuable Assets

Identify malicious activities from inside your virtual walls before an incident occurs with an efficient and powerful approach to understanding how risky your employee's behaviors are in the context of their role, location, and typical activities. Our Insider Risk Management solution gives security teams the right information to act quickly and better protect your valuable assets.

Superior Protection

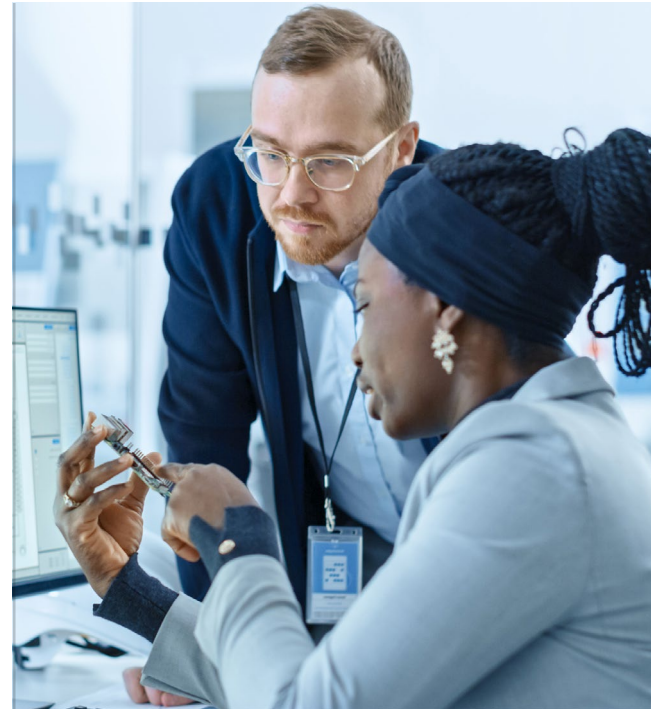

Safeguard your organization from insider threats by ensuring that you have the right people, processes, and technology in place to swiftly identify potential bad actors. Minimize the risk of data breaches, intellectual property theft, and other insider incidents that can damage your business.

Contextual Insights to Prioritize the Right Alerts

Provide your security analysts with relevant context to understand the true human risk, enabling them to prioritize incidents accurately. Reduce response times and enhance decision-making by focusing on the most critical threats.

Proactive Risk Mitigation

Stay one step ahead to eliminate potential insider threats before they manifest, enhancing your overall security posture and protecting your valuable assets.

“When it came to security awareness and training, what we used to do was to send users a security training assignment, which they would complete within 30 days, and then you checkmark it and move on. We never had a really good way to either detect behavior change or proactively look at user activity and say, ‘Wait a minute, this person is going to be risky in the future.’”

Key Features

Insider Risk Management solution empowers your security team with a transformative approach to proactively manage human risk. These key features keep you informed so insider threats don't catch you off guard.

Seamless Data Aggregation

Automatically aggregate data from your existing security platforms through secure APIs and correlate events and activities to get a holistic view of employee behaviors aligned to insider risks patterns. These risks are quantified and actionable with data-driven insights.

Distinguish Real Threats with Human Risk Index & Scores

Our proprietary Human Risk Index and Scores make obvious the riskiest individuals and attributes susceptible to insider risk. The proprietary, patent pending algorithms and contextual attributes specific to various roles reduce false positives and pinpoint genuine threats.

Real-Time Visibility

Get instant access to real-time human risk scores and insights across your organization with an intuitive interface that ensures that your security operations team can monitor and prioritize events effectively, allowing for proactive risk mitigation.

Advanced Filtering for Efficient Evaluation

Focus your security operations team's attention on the events and activities that pose the highest potential risk. Our advanced filtering capabilities streamline the process ensuring that valuable resources are allocated to genuine threats.

Single Platform Efficiency

Consolidate your efforts to identify and manage human risks into a single, comprehensive platform. Our Insider Risk Management solution simplifies the identification, assessment, and mitigation of insider risks, reducing complexity, and increasing operational efficiency.

Proactively identify insider threat behaviors with human risk scores that take into consideration contextual information to spotlight true insider threat activities and protect your valuable assets.
